

ARTIST'S MODEL DIES IN HOSPITAL

Beautiful Miss Marion W. Jennison, Great Favorite in Art Circles Here and Philadelphia, Succumbs to Peritonitis.

GIRL WAS PROTEGE OF MRS. H. PAYNE WHITNEY.

Talented Portrait Painter Herself and Very Popular—Appeared at Recent Physical Culture Exhibition in Garden.

Pretty Marion W. Jennison, one of the most popular models and students in the art colonies of New York and Philadelphia, died in Bellevue Hospital last night after a few days' suffering with peritonitis. She was removed from her apartments at No. 332 East Eighteenth street last Saturday night after private physicians had failed to bring her any relief.

Miss Jennison, who was only eighteen years old, was known in art circles as Marion Hammond, and was a protegee of Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney and other wealthy women. Her mother said this morning that while no arrangements had been made for the funeral it would in all probability be held in Philadelphia after a short service here.

"Marion," said Mrs. Jennison, "was an unusually talented girl. When she was a child she used to draw pictures of the family and her friends, and later we sent her to the Fine Arts and Industrial Schools of Philadelphia. That city has always been our home. Mr. Jennison is a lawyer there. But as soon as Marion graduated from her studies there I decided to bring her to New York, that she might have all the advantages possible.

"We came here last September, since which time Marion had studied and had also posed as a model. In Philadelphia she had painted a portrait of Mrs. John W. Rockefeller and here in New York she attracted the attention of Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney. Mrs. Whitney had been very kind to her and called to see her when she was ill last Saturday.

"Marion was very happy here and studied very hard. And I believe that if she had lived she would some day have made a great name for herself. It seems too bad that she should be taken away so suddenly and when she was just developing her talent."

Miss Jennison was a usually pretty young woman, and because of this was much in demand by the artists of New York. She had been seen in public at the physical culture exhibition at Madison Square Garden.

Her father, J. Morgan Jennison, and a brother in Philadelphia were notified of her death last night and are expected to reach New York to-day.

HOSPITAL VISITOR GOT A SCRUBBING

Wilpinsky, Desiring to See a Friend, Mistaken for a Patient at Mount Sinai, with Astonishing Results.

When Herman Wilpinsky, newly arrived from Warsaw, presented himself at the office of the Mount Sinai Hospital on Sunday afternoon and asked to see a sick friend he dropped his voice to such an extent and assumed altogether such a deferential and shrinking air that the clerk got the idea that the visitor was ill and desired treatment.

"What's your name, your age, address, married or single, what's the nature of your disease?" said the clerk all in one breath, taking down a big card with all sorts of questions for answers to questions, to all of which Wilpinsky answered in Russian that he was totally ignorant of what the clerk was asking him.

The visitor was duly provided with a patient's ticket setting forth that he was suffering from acute Bright's disease, and believing that he was armed with a pass to see his sick friend was passed along to the door of the reception-room.

He had hardly time to salute the attendant in charge and present his card when he was hustled into a waiting elevator and shot down to the basement, where he was stripped of his clothes, plunged into a big tank of water and given an invigorating bath by two husky attendants.

The first time Wilpinsky came to the surface he let out a protest in polysyllables sufficient to rattle the bottles in the dispensary on the floor above. The attendants, who know no Russian, were astonished at the vigor of the patient, but concluded that he would quiet down very soon, and applied scrubbing-brushes with undiminished vigor.

The terrified Wilpinsky did not quiet down, but instead seemed to gather strength. The attendants listened to his protestations with indifference, but when he kicked them in the stomach they threatened to cut off his whiskers if he did not keep quiet.

The terrified visitor became so violent that the attendants concluded that they had a madman on their hands and so reported to the office. A physician was sent down to make an examination and took with him an assortment of soothing drugs. The surgeon found the patient out on the floor with two perspiring attendants lying across him and trying to evade his desperate kicks. Fortunately Wilpinsky, the surgeon could speak Russian and understood the tale of woe. Wilpinsky was released, much to the relief of the attendants, and hastened into his clothes and out of the hospital without waiting to see his sick friend.

MISS MARION W. JENNISON, FROM SKETCH DRAWN BY HERSELF

PREDICTS END OF WORLD IN 90 YEARS.

CHICAGO, April 6.—The end of the world in ninety years has been predicted by Dr. John Robertson at the Evangelical services at the First Presbyterian Church in Austin.

"The day of judgment is at hand," he said. "Roughly speaking, about 2,000 years have elapsed between each coming of the Lord. After he created man it was 2,000 years until he appeared again, and 2,000 more until the coming of Christ.

"Reasoning by inductive analogy, the end of the world and the coming of the Lord are not far distant. He is about due for the fourth time, and this time he will come as a judge."

ISABELLA OF SPAIN ILL.

PARIS, April 6.—Former Queen Isabella of Spain is suffering from a severe attack of influenza, which causes great anxiety on account of her advanced age. She was born in 1828.

Several of the pianos in the sale are new instruments that have been used only during Easter week—others somewhat longer; but each piano offered has been thoroughly overhauled in our own workshop by the best piano workmen in this country and is practically as good as new. The prices aren't equalled anywhere, and, remember, the Sterling guarantee goes with every piano—a guarantee that means more than any ever offered.

A small cash deposit will secure any of these pianos, balance in easy payments, no interest, no mortgage; simply an agreement to pay a small amount each month.

The simplest, easiest and most satisfactory piano buying proposition offered anywhere, any time, by anyone—and you buy direct from the makers, which means a double saving. Come and see whether you think of buying or not.

$10, $15 and $25 for $35 to $100 Organs, all in strictly first class order.

$190 for a $275 Piano, very fine oak case, used but a short time.

$225 for a $325 large Huntington Piano, beautiful walnut veneer case, richly and tastefully carved, used less than six months.

$225 for a $300 Huntington Piano, a splendid instrument, perfect condition, rented a very short time—there are two of these.

At $25, $50 and $75, several medium square pianos; came to us in exchange; thoroughly reconstructed; excellent instruments.

TWO BOYS KILLED ON THE EAST SIDE

Two families to-day mourn the loss of two boys who were killed last night by teams on the east side.

Wolf Goldstein was leaving his home, at No. 43 Henry street, with his little son Morris, three years old, to attend the services of the Passover.

Little Morris ran down the steps ahead of his father, past the curb. At this moment a delivery wagon was being driven rapidly down the street. The lad was knocked down, the wheels passing over his chest. Without stopping to ascertain the extent of the boy's injuries, the driver whipped up his horses and escaped.

The little fellow was taken to a neighboring drug store, but when Dr. Weller arrived from the Hudson Street Hospital he said death must have been almost instant.

Leon Rosenblum, three and a half years old, was playing ball early in the morning in front of his home, No. 172 Forsyth street, when he was run down by a heavy truck, driven by George Hall. One of the wheels passed over his stomach, and when his limp body was picked up by Policeman Doye there was hardly a spark of life in him.

He was taken to Gouverneur Hospital, where he died in a few minutes. The boy's father, Simon Rosenblum, a cloak maker, and his mother, ran to the drug store where the little fellow had been taken. They implored the ambulance surgeon to save his life, and when told he could not live their grief was hysterical.

Schoolboy of Seventeen Divorced.

LOUISVILLE, April 6.—Harry Blackburn, seventeen years old, a student at the Kentucky Military Institute, has received word that he is a divorced man. A year ago he eloped with a girl of Pittsburgh, aged twenty. Young Blackburn's father, a man of means, objected to the union, and forcibly separated the couple.

Rev. Dr. McLeod Thanks God For Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey.

Distinguished Divine Uses and Commends DUFFY'S PURE MALT WHISKEY in Impassioned Language.

The Great Preacher Was Cured of Dyspepsia and Nervous Prostration of Forty Years' Standing by the Wonderful Medicine Whose Virtues He Extols

Honored and Respected Among Men, After More Than 50 Years of Constant Service in the Presbyterian Church, the Rev. A. McLeod, D. D., Who is Still Faithfully Pursuing His Calling, Makes the Following Frank and Outspoken Statement of What Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey Has Done for Him:

REV. A. McLEOD, D. D., OF THE DETROIT PRESBYTERY.

"I am now in my 73d year, and have served God fearlessly and to the best of my ability in my chosen calling. For more than forty years I have been afflicted with dyspepsia and nervous prostration. At times I would get so run down constitutionally through overwork as to be disqualified entirely from discharging my ministerial duties. The more I grew the more the disease seemed to prey upon me. The most noted physicians failed to prescribe any medicines that benefited me. I could neither eat nor sleep, and for more than two years I had to take sleeping powders every night.

"My nervous prostration became well nigh unbearable. But for the grace of God helping me, I would not be in the land of the living. Language fails to express the agony of my mind.

"Something over a month ago I began taking your preparation, Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey. In the brief period of two days I found that it began to help me. It gave me strength, helped my digestion, settled my nerves, and I have gained ten pounds since taking it. I thank God there is such a medicine to be had, and recommend all people with weak, broken-down constitutions and nervous people especially to use it. I feel that it will help them. I will be glad to answer and communicate in regard to the healing virtue of your preparation. I am a temperance man, and I do not think my position in this matter will be misunderstood."

Groomed, 2 Mch., Jan. 22, 1904.

Yours very truly, (REV.) A. McLEOD, D. D.

Dr. McLeod's endorsement is but the outpouring of a grateful soul, the utterance of a man who has been relieved of great suffering and who openly acknowledges the great medicinal value of Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey. Ministers of the gospel, doctors of medicine, nurses and people in every walk of life unite in commending this wonderful medicine—the only perfect food-stimulant, the one true medicinal whiskey. Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey cures coughs, colds, worst form of grip, consumption, bronchitis, pneumonia, catarrh, dyspepsia, and all kinds of stomach trouble. It never fails to build up a worn-out system, to soothe the tired nerves, to bring perfect health to the whole being. Every testimonial is published in good faith and guaranteed. For sale by druggists and grocers at direct, $1.00 per bottle. Medical booklet free. Duffy Malt Whiskey Co., Rochester, N. Y.
